City of Port Adelaide Enfield

Nunga Week 2019

Mayor's Foreword

The City of PAE is situated on Kurna Country and we acknowledge and pay respect to the Kurna People of the Adelaide region as the traditional owners. We continue to recognise Aboriginal people as the first Australians, with a unique culture and spiritual relationship to the land and sea that they have strived to retain through the period of non-indigenous settlement.

Nunga Week is a time to recognise and support the cultural, spiritual, health, emotional and economic wellbeing of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Island people that live in our region.

It's a time to showcase the local history, the achievements and experience the richness and diversity of Aboriginal culture across PAE.

It's also a time to increase participation and inclusion across the whole of community, both Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal.

I thank our partners and people who have contributed to the upcoming events, and look forward to celebrating this special week.

Mayor Claire Boan

Nunga Week

Nunga Week is a City of PAE celebration of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities' contributions with a special focus on partnerships between City of PAE and other local groups and organisations.

Nunga Week is held in the second week of November each year, and includes celebrations such as the ATSI Awards presentation together with many other events and activities across the region.

Attending and participating in such events provides an opportunity for cultural engagement and shared understanding of our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and their culture.

Nunga Week 2019 falls on the Monday 11 through to Sunday 17 November.

For enquiries please call: (08) 8405 6868 or email rodney.welch@cityofpae.sa.gov.au

All activities are free.

Reconciliation Statement

Niina Marni

Puki Puki tampi`dlu, nartangka wapi`dlu, marnintyaria tarrkarri tai`dlu.

Welcome. Let us recognise the past, act in the present and build a better future.

The City of Port Adelaide Enfield is located on the lands of the Kurna People. Council recognises Aboriginal people as the first Australians, with a unique culture and spiritual relationship to the land and sea that they have strived to retain through the period of non-indigenous settlement.

Council is strongly committed to improving the cultural, spiritual, health, emotional and economic wellbeing of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Island people in this region.

In consultation and collaboration with the local Aboriginal community Council will:

- Ensure the City of Port Adelaide Enfield becomes a region which exemplifies pride in and support for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture including language, arts, story telling, song and dance;
- Build on a partnership between the City of Port Adelaide Enfield and the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community which is respectful and collaborative;
- Advocate for the allocation of resources and services based on a sound understanding of the population, the strengths and needs of the Port Adelaide Enfield Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community;
- Facilitate opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to benefit from economic growth within the region by supporting employment, education and training initiatives; and
- Promote a community that is safe, welcoming, free from racism and inclusive for all.

The City of PAE

Community and Cultural Development

The Community and Cultural Development Section focuses on providing and promoting a range of opportunities for the community by providing access to services, programs, information and facilities that enhance quality of life, celebrate culture and support social participation, personal growth and change.

The City of PAE

Libraries

The City of PAE has five libraries across the council area - Greenacres, Enfield, Parks, Port Adelaide and Semaphore. Library membership is free and provides access to an extensive collection of books (including audio books and e-books), movies and magazines, as well as activities for children, families, adults and teens. Our libraries also offer free WiFi, computers with internet access and applications, access to online learning resources and other technology.

The City of PAE
